

BFA0102 is our very own Daniel Radcliffe lookalike. He is 177cm tall with blue-green eyes, straight dark brown hair, and fair skin that tans easily. He leads a very active lifestyle and particularly enjoys running. He is easy-going, reflective, optimistic, and practical, with a love of maths and science.

He works in information technology—a field he cares deeply about, as it allows him to help protect systems and solve complex problems. He is talented across a wide range of areas: technical, practical, athletic, and even artistic, making him a true all-rounder.

He is gentle, polite, and caring. He always takes the time to ask how we are and enjoys sharing stories. Though he may take a moment or two to warm up, once comfortable he is genuinely engaging, interesting, and a pleasure to talk to.
