Craven N0015 Staff Impression

Craven, the charming Brit, stands at 5'11" with a twinkle in his baby blue eyes and a perpetual blush on his rosy cheeks. Sporting a full beard and very short brown hair, he's got the rugged look down to an art. His angular nose adds a touch of sophistication to his playful vibe, making him the perfect mix of dashing and approachable.

Craven is a science teacher who juggles atoms by day and dives into the cosmos by night in school studying Astrobiology. A dedicated vegan with a love for strumming his guitar, Craven brings the perfect harmony of science and creativity. When he's not teaching or playing, you can find him on the soccer field, either watching a thrilling match or kicking the ball around. Above all, he's a proud dad who lights up at the mention of his kids. With a thoughtful personality and a passion for discovery, Craven is the cool, kind-hearted scientist who knows how to rock both the classroom and a soccer game!
